

Open positions for a Ph.D. in Finance

ESCP Business School, one of the best-ranked business school in Europe, is seeking outstanding candidates for the Finance track of its Paris-based Ph.D. Program.

ESCP provides a four-year scholarship/teaching assistance contract of €1750/month and full tuition waiver to a significant proportion of Ph.D. students. In addition, external funding from companies (CIFRE), the French government or the European Union is available.

The program offers a range of PhD level classes in Empirical Methods, Corporate Finance, Asset Pricing, and Banking together with elective classes in Economics and Management. Candidates for a Finance Ph.D. should have good quantitative skills so that they can rapidly start their own empirical or theoretical research. A research master in Finance, Economics or a related field is an asset but not compulsory. Applicants with interest in all fields of finance are welcome.

Finance faculty members regularly publish in top tier finance journals and maintain an active seminar series and visitor program. ESCP also subscribes to all major finance databases.

For further information about the program please send us an email at melquebali@escp.eu.

The application deadlines for a start in fall of 2023 are February 28th (first round of screening) and April 30th (second round of screening).
